4. Dress appropriately

EXTRA HELP AFTERNOONS

If you are falling behind or are having trouble understanding a concept please ask for help as soon as possible. I want you to succeed and I am willing to help in any way I can. I am available for extra help mornings on Mondays 8:10-8:40.

HOMEWORK

Homework will not be given unless you choose not to work on your classwork during class. We have long classes, and it should give you plenty of time to complete your daily work.

CLASS DESCRIPTION

This course of study supports students with emotional disabilities to develop competence in researching cultures, people, and events from Ancient Greek and Roman civilizations through World War II. In this class, students follow the general education world history curriculum with modified assignments at a more individualized pace. These smaller classes provide more step-by-step instruction to help build the skills necessary to make comparisons, understand cause and effect relationships, distinguish between fact and opinion, make inferences, draw conclusions, read maps, and create timelines, graphs, and charts.
